Bay Rum Cocktail ... Commodore Ramsey's Ingenious Contrivance-Street Motors-Making Plates for Newspapers,

"I was very much amused," remarked a young man about town to THE CRITIC, "at the ingenuity of a friend that slept with me the other night. We had been out late and had during the evening partaken of a variety of liquid refreshments. As a consequence we both felt very dry when we awoke next morning. I generally keep some whisky and all the other ingredients' in my room, but as luck would have it on this particular morning the bottle was as dry as we were. When my friend discovered this fact he was in despair. Although I wanted a drink pretty badly, I couldn't help but laugh as I saw the expression of disap-pointmen, and despair on his countenance. His eyes wandered all over the room, as if he expected to find a cockroom, as it he expected to had a cock-tail hidden away in some unexpected place. Suddenly his face lightened up. 'Aha! I have it,' he said; 'where are your sugar and lemons?' Having given him these articles he put a couple of spoonfuls of sugar, some lemon juice and water into a glass and stirred them up. I must confess I was somewhat puzzled by this proceeding, for I had never known my friend to drink anything so mild as lemonade in the morning, and I wondered where he was going to get the material necessary to bring its strength up to the desired point. How do you suppose he managed it? Why, he took the bay-rum bottle off the dressing table, poured a good 'four fingers' out of it into the glass with the lemon and sugar and drank it down. He smacked his lips over it, too, and de-clared that a bay-rum cocktail was a Perhaps it is, but I didn't care to try the experiment, and waited for my drink until I got outside."

"I think that the managers of the theatres here make a mistake," said a guest at one of the uptown hotels, "in not announcing in their advertisements the hour at which the curtain rises, as is done in other cities. Of course, this is not necessary for people who live here, but it would be a great conve-nience to strangers. I don't know whether the performances commence at the same hour in all the houses here, but they don't in other cities, and strangers are often at a loss to know just what time to go."

Commodore Ramsey, chief of the Bureau of Navigation in the Navy Department, has had placed in his office an ingenious arrangement which indicates the whereabouts of all United States vessels. It consists of a series of rows of small, oblong squares, into which card board slips can be placed, very much as hotel clerks keep account of the guests in each room. One row indicates the names of ships, the next their commanders; then the last port from which they sailed, and where and when they last arrived, etc. Any one visiting the Bureau can at a glance obiain much valuable and interesting formation without asking a question. The arrangement will be especially appreciated in naval circles and by newspaper men.

"We have in our place," says Mr. Frank Scarff of Kansas City, "more varieties of street motors than any city in the Union, I believe, and after practically testing all it seems to be the consensus of opinion of citizens that the We not only have operating in the Gate City mule cars, horse cars, electric cars, and cable cars, but ours is the only city besides New York and Brooklyn that is successfully operating elevated rail-roads. After a fair test of them all our people like the cable best for all pur-poses. I am glad to see them introduced at the Capital, for I am sure that after trial this system is destined to become very popular.

The alacrity with which mechanics drop their work the very second the dinner hour arrives has become almost proverbial, but there is one branch of business in which such is not the case. The other day the camera dropped into an establishment in this city where the ready-set plate matter so popular among country newspapers is manufactured. It was a few minutes after noon and the unusual spectacle was witnesse a carpenter who was sawing off lumber for boxes, supplying himself with lunch with one hand while he sawed with the other. The compositors, stereotypers, laborers and everybody else about the place were lunching in the same manner—just snatching a bite without stopping their work. The fact is, that in the "boiler-plate" business, as in a regular newspaper office, time is very precious, for the loss of a few minutes may cause the publishers of many newspapers to be without their usual supply of news for a whole day.

"Some people have no sense at all about taking care of a cold, and I'm one of them," said Commissioner Douglass. "I expect I'll continue to be that way till I die. I got the grip last December and I've had it ever since. Every few days, just when I seem to be getting nicely over it, I get an addition

REPUBLICAN TARIFF BILL.

Changes in the Present Schedule_In-ternal Revenue Reductions. The Republican members of the Ways and Means Committee have agreed upon every point of division on the tariff schedules and the reductions to be made from internal revenue, and will present the bill to the full committee for its consideration in a few

The clauses relating to carpet wools, Mexican lead ores and one or two other articles have not yet been finally and definitely passed upon. While the bill is not absolutely completed, and will, of course, be subject to revision, it is believed to be substantially a finished measure so far as the majority of the committee is concerned. The internal revenue features of the bill are as follows: The entire abolition of all special taxes upon dealers of all kinds, commonly known as licenses; the tax upon snuff will be repealed, farmers and planters growing tobacco will have the liberty to sell to whomsoever they please, without restraint, in the same manner as any farmer can dispose of any other of the products of his

The tax upon manufactured tobacco will be reduced from 8 cents to 4 cents a pound; cigars, cheroots and charettes will carry the same tax as is imposed under the present law. Al-cohol used in the arts is free under substantially the same restrictions as are prescribed in the Senate bill. The reductions in the revenue from these sources will, in round numbers, amount to between seventeen and nineteen millions of dollars.

The following are the principal provisions in the tariff schedules: The chemical schedule contains but few changes from existing law. There are some reductions and no advances in duty, and it is believed that the duties in this schedule will be found below the Senate schedule. The earthenware and glassware schedules remain substantially as in the existing law.

There are a number of important changes in the metal schedule. ng rates are maintained upon iron ore and pig iron. Barbed wire for fencing is made dutiable at 6-10 cent per pound, which is below the duty upon that kind of iron entering into other uses.

Beams, girders and structural iron is reduced from 11 cents to 6-10 cent a pound, which is a reduction below that of the Senate bill.

Railway iron, in packages exceeding 14 and not exceeding 24 cubic feet, 50 cents a package. Raisins 24 cents a pound duty. Advances in duties have generally been conceded the farming interests where it is believed increased duties will benefit the farmer. Spirits, wines and other beverages have been left as found in the existing law. Salt, also, has not been touched. Cotton manufactures are left substan-tially as in the Senate bill. Jute, manilla, sun and sisal grass are put upon the free list, as is wool de gras, which enters into the finishing of leather. A reduction is made in the duty on binding twine.

In the wool schedule, wools of the first class, known as clothing wools, 11 cents per pound; wools of the second class, known as combing wools, 12 cents; carpet wools, valued at 12 cents or less, 34 cents per pound; valued at over 12 cents, 8 cents a pound.

This is a reduction of \(\frac{1}{2} \) cent a pound from the Senate bill and an increase of 14 cents from the present law. It is be-lieved, however, that the definitions and classifications and restrictions provided for will make this duty even more valuable to the wool-growers than the duty fixed by the Senate bill.

In the Mills bill wool was put on the free list, and the duty given to the manufacturers of woolen fabrics was from 40 to 45 per cent. As this bill makes wool dutlable, it gives compensensus of opinion of citizens that the cable motor is preferable to all others.

We sation to the manufacturers for the duty imposed upon wool. The differfacturers by the Mills bill and the proposed measure is only 10 per cent.

After giving to the manufacturers a compensatory 6-10 cent a pound, the present rate being $17 a ton, a reduction of about $4 a ton, and a reduction in the rate fixed by the Senate bill, The duty on steel rails is reduced $4 a ton. The duty on tin plate has been increased to 2 2-10 cents a pound. Pig tin remains free. There is an increase in the duty on pocket cutlery.

In the lumber schedule, the duty on sawed boards, planks and finished lum-ber is reduced 50 per cent. from the present rate. There is a special pro-vision inserted that in case Canada lays an export duty upon lumber then du-ties shall be collected according to the rates under existing law. The duty on Sumatra tobacco is increased to $2.75 per pound.

There is an increase generally along the entire list in the duties upon agricultural angles.

cultural products. The duty upon barley is raised to 30 cents a bushel, hops to 15 cents a pound, buckwheat to 15 cents a bushel, macaroni and vermicell 2 cents a pound, oats 10 cents a bushel.

The duty on agricultural seeds is increased. The duty on rice is reduced from 21 to 2 cents a pound; rice flour and rice meal, from 1 cent to 2 cent a pound and broken rice to i cent a bound. Butter and substitutes there for have the duty increased to 6 cents a pound.

The duty on eggs is raised to 5 cents a dozen; potatoes to 25 cents a bushel. Hides, which are now on the free list, are made dutiable at 14 cents pound. There is a small increase in the duty upon fruits. Oranges and lemons, in packages of 11 cubic feet or less, 25 cents per package.

The Tennallytown Railroad. A committee of property owners, consisting of Colonel A. T. Britton, General Drum, W. A. Gordon, O. C. Green, John E. Bell and R. H. Golds-borough, called on the District Commissioners this afternoon in connection with the Senate bill amending the bill to incorporate the Tennallytown Rail road Company. The bill as amended permits the company to construct its railroad on the Tennallytown road, instead of alongside of it, as provided for in the original bill. The amended bill was sent to the Commissioners for report and the committee urged upon them that the report be made favorable.

How to Select a Wife. Good health, good morals, good sense and good temper, are the four essentials for a good wife. These are the indispensafor a good wife. These are the indispensa-bles. After them come the minor advan-tages of good looks, accomplishments, family position, etc. With the first four-married life will be confortable and happy. Lacking either, it will besin more or less degree a failure. Upon good health de-pends largely good temper and good books, and, to some extent, good sense also, as the best mind must be affected more or less by the weaknesses and whims attendant on the weaknesses and whims affendant on frail health. Young man, if your wife is falling into a state of invalidism, first of all things try to restore her health. If she is troubled with debilitating female weaknesses, buy Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It will cure her.

WILLING TO WAIT. The Hope of Reward Inspires a Lover to Remain True,

From the Terre Haute Expres "So you engaged yourself to me when t was your firm intention all along to marry the old brute; old enough to be your grandfather. How could you be so false, so cruel? I never will believe in woman again!"

And Lucullus Biggars stood up in all his manly beauty of six feet two and looked down wrathfully into the two beseeching blue eyes so wistfully gazing at his handsome face.
"I—I couldn't help it," answered the woman, who had embittered his life forever—so he thought—by cruelly casting him aside for one whose only attraction was his hoarded, sordid gold. "And besides it was largely your own fault."

"My fault!" he exclaimed, wildly striding up and down the little parlor, and even forgetting himself so far as to stick both hands under his coat-tails, like the stage father: "great heavens, woman, when have I failed to gratify your slightest whim? When have orgotten to bring you chewing gum When have I ever omitted to take you to any attraction that has been worth seeing? When-" but here his emotions overpowered him and for the moment he was speechless.

"Still, I say, it was largely your fault," said she, in the sweetest tones. "Long ago, before you ever told me you loved me, you said that you could have no respect for a woman who would allow herself to be kissed by a man to whom she was not engaged. And I did so want to kiss you, dear. Won't you forgive me?"

Of course he did. And at about 2 a. m. early the ensuing morning a young man might have been seen meditatively walking homeward, his face the scene of varied and conflicting emotions. "I guess she was right," he solitoquized, "and perhaps the old duffer won't last very long after all, and $200,000 in cold cash is, I think, worth waiting for.' And the black night enwrapped him in its gleamless gloom.

A Postal Paradox. From the New York Sun.

One of the most curious sections of the postal laws is that relating to the sending of magazines. Take such a periodical as the "Book Buyer," for instance, issued by the Scribners. It is sent to subscribers in San Francisco or Astoria at pound rates, while a subscriber living around the corner from the publication office in this city gets the magazine with a two-cent stamp on the wrapper. It costs the publisher four times as much to send the magazine ten rods as it does to send it three times ten hundred miles.

The Bankside Shakespeare. Brentano announces that volume seven of the "Bankside" Shakespeare is ready for delivery to subscribers says the Paris Register. It contains "Titus Andronicus," and the claim is made that the play has never before received so full editorial treatment. The "Lear" will be issued shortly, and will have an introduction bythe Hon. Alvey A. Adee, Second Assistant Secretary of Washington.

Therefore, the only effective treatment is a thorough course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla - the best of all blood purifiers. The sooner you begin the better; delay is dangerous.

"When Aver's Sarsaparilla was recommended to me for catarrh, I was inclined to doubt its efficacy. Having tried so many remedies, with little benefit, I had no faith that anything would cure me. I became emaciated from loss of appetite and impaired digestion. I had nearly lost the sense of smell, and my system was badly deranged. I was about discouraged, when a friend urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and referred me to persons whom it had cured of catarrh. After taking half a dozen bottles of this medicine, I am convinced that the only sure way of treating this that the only sure way of treating this obstinate disease is through the blood."

COURTING ON STREET CARS.

How Young Couples Escape the Vigi-

From the Brooklyn Engle. "Love-making?" said the conductor, "Oh, yes, I see a lot of that, too, and it does my old heart good. Why, there's many a young couple whose parents do not look favorably upon early mar-riage, or marriage at all unless they make the selection, who do all their courting on the cars. The young lady will get on untown, let us say, and a few blocks further down she will be olped by the young man.

Their efforts to make it appear that Their efforts to make it appear that the meeting is purely accidental are amusing to a high degree, but they don't blind old veterans such as I. I can spot 'em every time. Many a time I ve seen one of these couples ride down very nearly to the ferry, get off and board another car bound up-town. They can keep it up all day if they feel as discread and are not detected. so disposed and are not detected.
"I have known an angry father and an angry mother, too, on another occasion to appear on the scene just when they were least wanted. Nothing of an open nature occurred in the car, but I noticed that the lovers left as soon as they could do so with any degree of dignity, and from the light in the old folks' eyes I judged that there would be rough weather off coast for somebody before long."

OLD NOTIONS ABOUT BIRDS.

A French Missionary's Story of the Mexican Name for the Hummers. From Forest and Stream, Gabriel Sagard, a French missionary and an admirable naturalist, writing in the year 1634, gives the following account of the humming bird: "This bird, as one might say, does, or to speak more correctly, puts itself to sleep in the month of October, living fastened to some little branchlet of a tree by the feet, and wakes up in the month of April when the flowers are in abundance, and sometimes later, and for that cause is called in the Mexican tongue the Revived." It is not twenty years since a similar error died out.

It used to be no uncommon thing to hear stories of digging swallows out of the mud in winter, and to add to the credibility of the tales the narrators embellished them with vivid accounts of how the frozen wings would snap, and bow under treatment the birds would revive and fly about the house, affording great pleasure to their kind bene-
